

The diagram illustrates a complex branching structure, likely representing a search space or a sequence of operations. The root node is 'ROOT-121-6-4-3'. It branches into four main paths. Each path continues to branch, with labels indicating specific states or configurations at each level. The final row shows a large number of leaf nodes, each representing a unique configuration reached through the sequence of operations.